GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Oakey Hall's Secrecy.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The World says Oakey Hall's family positively assert that Hall has neither communicated with his family or any friends since his departure in any manner whatever, and a private letter from Jennings to a friend of ex-Mayor says that a letters forwarded here by Hall's friends in this city he had ordered to Hall, but Hall had refused to receive them or to see any of the American newspapers. The family are well to do. Hall took but little money with him so far as known, and will probably attempt to support himself in London. Whether the State or City will institute proceedings against him on the statements made by Tweed will depend upon the action taken touching the release of Tweed.

Hanged.

RENO, Nev., May 4.—Weeks, who murdered McGrew two years ago, was hung at Dayton to-day.

Split in Republicans on the President's Policy.

NEW YORK, May 5.—A Times dispatch from Detroit says in the Michigan legislature a resolution offered by one of the Republican representatives, indorsing the President's Southern policy, was referred without debate to the committee on Federal relations, seven Republicans and all the Democrats voting in the affirmative, and thus in favor of its immediate consideration.

Brokerage Raised.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Stock Exchange has again raised broker's commissions and charges for buying or selling.

Found Dead in Dirt and Beer.

NYACK (N. Y.), May 5.—Mary Mills, widow of George Mills, was found dead in her room at Orange yesterday, surrounded by dirt, rum and beer. In the room was a satchel containing nearly $7,000 in Government bonds, $200 in bills, $50 in English banknotes, and a deed to real estate valued at $10,000.

Grant will have a Big Feed.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Seligman, the banker, will give a dinner to ex-President Grant next Tuesday.

Treasure Shipments.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Specie shipments, $1,200,000 gold coin, $350,000 silver.

Letter from Red Cloud.

CHICAGO, May 5.—A despatch from Camp Robinson, dated yesterday, says a courier just arrived brings a letter from Red Cloud who says he will reach the agency early Sunday morning with Crazy Horse's village. An Indian who arrived at his camp reports forty-three lodges of Cheyennes and four of Sioux had surrendered at the camp on Tongue river. Sitting Bull was on Dry creek north of Yellowstone.

Fires.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The furniture store of D. J. Farrington, was damaged by fire this morning; loss, $25,000.

UTICA, N. Y., May 5.—The Franklin cotton mill at Sangerfield, burned last night; loss, $75,000; insured, $10,000. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lantern.

CINCINNATI, May 5.—The residence of J. N. Douglass, East Walnut hills, burned to-night. Loss $19,000.

Snow in May.

CAMP, May 5.—A letter from Deadwood says snow has fallen daily. Seventeen inches of snow fell in one day and night. Prospecting is restricted on account of cold weather.

Missing Party Arrived.

The surveying party from Kearney to Deadwood has arrived, a distance of 240 miles.

The Silver Markets.

The Bullion says the United States has been a heavy buyer of silver in Europe this spring. Large sales of fine metal lowered the price so that it could be bought cheaper in Europe than in America.

Soldiers' Dinner.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The third army corps assembled itself to-night in a dinner at Delmonico's and listened to addresses by Daniel Dickles, Alfred Pleasanton and others, and reading of letters of regret from President Hayes, Grant, Admiral Patrick, Brown and others.

Surrender of Crazy Horse.

CAMP ROBINSON, Neb., May 6.—The surrender of Crazy Horse's band took place at this point at 2 P. M. to-day. The whole affair passed off very quietly. The band numbers nearly 1,300 souls under Crazy Horse, Little Hawk, He Dog and Little Big Man. Crazy Horse said he was making this peace to last. The ponies surrendered are estimated to number nearly 3,500. They seem to be in very good condition and have many American mules and mules among them. As soon as the lodges were erected a detachment of Indian soldiers under Lieut. Clark of General Crook's staff, went to each one and obtained a number of its inmates, as well as a surrender of all the arms. This task is not yet completed, but up to the time of writing over one hundred guns have been obtained, chiefly improved breech-loaders. Crazy Horse gave up three Winchester rifles. Little Hawk gave up 2. The Indians present a good appearance, but their village gives signs of unceasing pursuit in the past. Many lodges are very old and almost worn. Great numbers of this band have never been on a reservation before. Little Hawk, one of the principal chiefs, wears around his neck the silver medal presented to his father by President Monroe in 1817. This arrival makes the aggregate number of Northern Indians who have surrendered to Gen. Crook at Red Cloud and Spotted Tail agencies since March nearly 5,000, and does away with the necessity for a military expedition the coming summer. Gen. McKenzie will hold a council with Crazy Horse and other chiefs to-morrow or day after.

Notable Death.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The Sun says Edward Wilson, a noted thief, died here to-day.

Tweed's Confession.

Tweed's confession was recently submitted to Attorney General Fairchild and Wheeler H. Peckham. Tweed's release depends on Peckham's report to the attorney general on the confession.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Franco-German Affairs.

A Berlin dispatch says the warm reception of the Emperor by the inhabitants of Strasburg has induced him to postpone the reinstatement of the Alsace and Lorraine garrison. It is hoped the French government will profit by this respite to diminish their forces in the frontier districts.

The Roman Deputies.

ROME, May 4.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, Minister Melligeri in answer to a query who had given notice of the interpellation relative to the reactionary movement commenced abroad in favor of the restoration of the temporal power of the Pope, said the agitation was the work of private individuals and deserved no serious consideration. The powers were convinced that the church and Pope enjoyed complete liberty and independence. The interpellation was postponed upon suggestion of the government.

The Overdue Steamship.

QUEENSTOWN, May 5.—The steamship Wisconsin has arrived and reports on May 3d, in lat. 51° north, long. 16° west, she passed a steamer with no lights burning proceeding eastward. This may be the steamer City of Brussels, now overdue from New York, with Canadian pilgrims on board.

Complimenting Italy.

Minister Simon in a speech, pointed out the scrupulous manner in which Italy had observed the law of papal guarantees. The Italian ambassador has since called upon Simon and thanked him for the manner in which he had referred to it.

Burnt Sugar.

HAVANA, May 5.—In a fire at Matanzas, one thousand hogsheads of sugar were burned.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Pension Agencies Reduced.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Pension agents have been reduced to 18. The Pacific coast will have one. The amount of salaries and fees now paid is $423,000 per annum. The aggregate reduction of expenditures by the new system will be $135,000. The number of pensioners paid through the New York City office will be 10,000; at Canandaigua, 22,000; at Philadelphia, 20,000; at Pittsburgh, 7,000.

Bristow for the Supreme Court.

The World's Washington special says Bristow will be nominated to succeed Davis when Congress meets. Noyes would have been appointed, but Waite was in the way, and he has been given the French mission.

The Reason Why.

The World's Washington special thinks the extra session was put off till October, because the President wished to tide over a possible revolt against his Southern policy among Republicans.

The Tribune's Washington special says: The extra session was postponed to give the business of the country a chance to revive, and to avoid the heated term. No political consideration had weight with the cabinet. Randall in an interview thought the President afraid to go to the country with his policy, and that delay really helps the Democrats. Republicans think delay unconstitutional.

The Times Washington special says business men are unanimous against the summer session. This ruled the cabinet. No political reasons had any weight.

The Herald's Washington special says: The malcontents in the Republican party, Blaine and Butler and their followers are flanked by this call. Furthermore elections in 12 States will have intervened to allow expression of popular opinion on the President's policy. Already remonstrances are pouring in against postponement and a strong effort will be made to induce the President to change the date to one supposed to have been originally chosen for the extra session.

The Sun's Washington special says: At the White House one set of reasons is given for the change; another exists. No one feared harm to trade in the extra session until the House was lost to the administration and the Senate in serious danger.

Evarts is thoroughly alarmed. He returned from his Albany trip thoroughly aggressive and convinced that the spontaneous enthusiasm of the party was not with Hayes. Like advices come from Ohio and Illinois of men who supported Hayes. He did not dare to force the extra session, barren of success and full of possible defeat as the first result of his Southern policy, so his bitter opponents here say.

Decoration Day.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Arrangements for decoration day at Arlington are complete. Brigadier General N. Goff has been selected orator, W. Carleton, Michigan, poet, and Rev. Clay McCauley, lately called to the First Unitarian Church of this city, chaplain. The committee will arrange for ceremonies at the Soldiers' Home Cemetery, where 7,000 soldiers are interred.

Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON May 5.—Objections to postponing the extra session of Congress have all been waived, and the following was issued this afternoon by the President:

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, The final adjournment of the Forty-fourth Congress without making the usual appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June 18, 1878, presents an extraordinary occasion, requiring the President to exercise the power vested in him by the constitution to convene the Houses of Congress in anticipation of the day fixed by law for their next meeting, now, therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do by virtue of the power in me vested by the constitution convene both houses of Congress to assemble at their respective chambers at noon on Monday, the 15th day of October next then and there to consider and determine such measures as in their wisdom, in duty and the welfare of the country may seem to demand.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand.

R. B. HAYES.

By the President:
WM. M. EVARTS, Secretary of State.

The Crooked Whisky Cases.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Concerning the case of Roelle Junker, the opinion of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, French, in which Secretary Sherman concurs, has been published and is substantially the same as foreshadowed in dispatches sent to the California Associated Press. Some days ago these parties proposed to pay $100 for an indebtedness to the government of over half a million for taxes, out of which government has been defrauded, they alleging the understanding under which they gave their evidence to the government was that they should have immunity from civil as well as criminal process. Of this the Secretary says the government has already executed its part of the agreement. It did not and could not under the law extend to proponents a release for taxes due for forfeiture incurred under the internal revenue law. It is denied by the solicitor of the Treasury and Secretary of the Treasury that such a release was proposed to proponents, and this department would not be justified in acting on any such vague assertion of an understanding which is denied on the other side. The power to compromise debts and other pecuniary liabilities to the United States is a discretionary power vested in the Secretary of the Treasury. He has jurisdiction to compromise only upon previous recommendation of other officers and he alone can make a compromise or authorize it to be made. He should only authorize a release from suit on the plainest grounds of public policy. In accepting their offer to compromise for the nominal sum of a hundred dollars, the secretary would relieve the defendants of the result of a confessed crime and from the payment of a confessed debt. Their release from this debt merely because they confessed a crime of such magnitude would be a dangerous example. The least that can be demanded is that they pay their taxes and for the loss to the government. Their insolvency does not justify their release.

Removal of the Sioux.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Brigadier General Crook had a long conference to-day with the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs in regard to the removal of the Sioux agencies to the Missouri river, and on the Indian question generally. Secretary Schurz and Commissioner Smith entirely concur with Gen. Crook in his view that Indians should be compelled to work for their rations, and the conference to-day was mainly with a view to ascertain how the labor of Indians could be utilized in the interests both of the Indians and the government. No definite conclusion was reached as to the precise location of the new agencies, but it seems certain the Indians will not be removed until next autumn, as during the warm seasons the Indians will be disposed to struggle on in hunting expeditions, but will be easily collected and held together on the approach of cold weather.

Government Swindlers on Trial.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—To-day, in the criminal court, the case of F. A. Sawyer, Frank W. Brooks, W. T. Haines, D. P. Roddy, and Wm. H. Barstow, charged with conspiring to defraud the government by defendants Brooks and Roddy presenting fraudulent claims to the amount of $5,500, and the others, Sawyer as assistant secretary of the treasury, Haines as commissioner of customs, and Barstow as clerk passing the same, was called up and trial set for the 16th.

The New Idria and McGarrahan Claim.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The question whether the Interior Department should proceed to take final action on the New Idria Co's application for patents prior to final action by Congress concerning the McGarrahan claim, and it was yesterday referred by Secretary Schurz to Attorney General Devans for his opinion. The newspaper controversy on this subject is contained in to-day's Chronicle, Capital and Herald in the same bitter and denunciatory language as last Sunday.

The Mail Service.

The Postoffice Department has issued orders to place the mail service on the Southern Pacific Railroad from San Bernardino to Yuma and curtail the present mail service between San Bernardino and Prescott by making it leave the railroad at Los Palmos.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The Crossing of the Danube.

BUCHAREST, May 4.—The Russian advance guard reached Ursoitpeh, south of Busco. The road there divides, one branch leading eastward to Gurejalomici, nearly opposite the Turkish town of Hersova; the other south to Kalarach, opposite Silistria. At Hersova the Danube is compressed into one channel, the banks of which are not marshy, and the passage here is much easier than at any other point between Silistria and Galatz. Hersova is also much less strongly defended than Silistria. It is probable a strong corps of Russians will be concentrated at Gurejalomici and Kalarach, either to force a crossing or keep the garrisons at Silistria and Hersova occupied while a crossing is effected elsewhere.

Turks Not Enthusiastic.

English travelers from the interior of Turkey state that dispatches of Moslem enthusiasm are much exaggerated.

Proclamation of Siege.

A Pera special says the Porte has assured Layard that the state of siege will not be proclaimed until necessary.

England Marshals Her Forces.

LONDON, May 5.—Amongst other considerable stores which are being sent to Gibraltar and Malta, 17 38-ton guns are ordered to be sent to the former fortress and works for mounting them are to be completed. It is understood that the Dragoon Guards have been placed on the list for service if required; also two of dragoons, one of hussars, one of lancers; one brigade of horse artillery, one of garrison artillery, two of field artillery; thirteen separate battalions of infantry, and twenty-three complete regiments and two battalions of the rifle brigade; also the Second Grenadier Guards, 2d battalion of Coldstream Guards and the first battalion of the Scotts Guards. [The Guards never leave the kingdom except for active service. The last occasion was when they went to Canada at the time of the Trent affair].

The Times does not print the news with any special prominence as though it was of great significance.

The Times in the naval news from Portsmouth reports that the Boadicea is to be out of the shipwrights' hands by the 22d inst., when she will be placed in steam reserve in readiness for any service which may be required. Efforts are also making to complete six gun boats similar to the Medea. Two of these building at Jarrow are ready for delivery by the contractors. These boats are especially designed for river navigation, they draw six feet of water and carry three sixty-four pounders. Within the last ten days the construction of ten large boats for landing troops and horses has been ordered. Twelve similar boats are already in a forward state of construction.

England's Turret Ships.

LONDON, May 4.—The Post says we are given to understand that, with a view to possible eventualities in the East, the government has resolved to fit out for sea with the utmost expedition the whole class of small turret ships, of which the Lecote and Statton are types. These vessels, though armor-plated, are of comparatively light draft. They carry four powerful guns each.

Fadiff Ordered to Jassy.

A Belgrade correspondent reports that Grand Duke Nicholas has ordered Gen. Fadiff to repair instantly to Jassy.

The Red Cross Society.

The Servian Red Cross Society is sending ambulances to Roumania and Montenegro.

Montenegrin Mobilization.

A council of ministers, at which Prince Milan presided, was held Thursday to consider the question of mobilization of the army.

Refugees from Widdin.

Refugees are beginning to arrive in Servia from Widdin. Eirob Pasha asked if Servia would consent to receive them, as the Russians are expected to bombard Widdin from Kalafat.

The Inter-Ocean's Miscellany.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The Inter-Ocean this morning publishes the first genuine special cable telegram that ever has been published in a Western paper. It is dated London and occupies a half column. Points are as follows: Importance is attached to the bombardment of Ibrail as to which party committed the first belligerent act. If Turkey, then Roumania has a valid excuse for joining Russia, and will embrace it. Austria hesitates to protest against closing the Danube, which violates the Paris treaty. The blockade of the Black Sea by the Turks begins to-day. In Asia the fact that Russian cavalry have left Wladikawshaw and occupied Bayaze, 19 miles south of Mount Ararat, and the fact that Turks have withdrawn to Rostock, is gravely significant, considering the treaty lately concluded between Russia and Persia. Armenian Christians sympathize with Russia. Various large meetings were held in English cities Friday night to protest against English interference, and to sustain Gladstone.

Sir Wm. Northcote, the great traveler, just arrived, says Turkey's strength is largely underestimated. She has now over 400,000 soldiers in European Turkey alone, well armed, drilled, disciplined and wildly enthusiastic.

Reception of Grant.

Arrangements are making to receive Gen. Grant, towards whom a warm friendly feeling prevails among all classes.

General War Notes.

LONDON, May 5.—It is stated that Russia has effected a loan in Paris of 100,000,000 francs.

The cabinet will meet to-day. It is said the cabinet is thoroughly united about the protection of British communication with India, which will be imperiled by movement of Russians in Asia.

The British squadron at Corfu has been ordered to Crete.

MANCHESTER, May 5.—Information has reached here that Austria has determined to occupy Bosnia and Herzegovina. The movement of troops for that purpose will begin within two weeks.

VIENNA, May 5.—The Post's St. Petersburg advices say great distrust prevails against England. Batteries on the Baltic are being repaired and armed and hundreds of torpedoes are ready for the Gulf of Finland and a number of houses have been reserved for quarters for troops.

BUCHAREST, May 5.—The official journal publishes a letter from the Prince to the President and council announcing the contribution of $20,000 from civil list towards the campaign and equipments for Roumanian officers. The Senate had adopted a bill postponing payment until the end of the war. The Chamber of Deputies have adopted a bill for the organization of the militia and National Guard.

The Danubian Commission.

The meeting of the European Danube commission, appointed for the 7th inst., cannot be held. Turkish and Russian delegates decline to attend, and the British and French delegates left Galatz before the port was closed and cannot return.

Newspaper Change.

LIVERPOOL, May 5.—A London correspondent says Greenewood of the Pall Mall Gazette is about to take a position as correspondent of the Times. This indicates a change in the Times' attitude toward the Eastern Question, Greenewood being strongly anti Russian.

Insurrection Ended.

RAGUSA, May 5.—The insurrection of Miridites is ended.

Trying to Make a Raise.

PARIS, May 5.—Russia is making efforts to raise a loan here.

A Legal Question.

The Russian Senate has decided that the Moscow tribunal of commerce has the right to adjudge Strasbourg, a railroad speculator, a bankrupt, and issued an order that Strasbourg leave the country.

Getting out of Danger.

VIENNA, May 5.—On the bombardment by Turkish monitors the inhabitants of Reni, Ibrail and Oltenitzer fled.

Russians Cross the Pruth.

KISCHINEFF, May 5.—Duke Nicholas telegraphs as follows: The passage of the Pruth was retarded by an unusually swollen condition of the river. Necessary steps have been taken that the concentration of troops will not be interfered with.

The London Times Waxes Warm.

LONDON, May 6.—The Times says Gladstone's resolutions threaten to do something worse than throw the liberal party into confusion. In ordinary times the breaking of party bonds might doubtless be borne with serenity, but these are not ordinary times. The government must soon come to a decision of incalculable importance, because tending to make peace. Secure on peace, and counting on that slippery incline of menace which too often ends in war, bitter personal animosities are enlisted in favor of a course which would be disastrous and criminal. Political vivacities are aiding reckless advisers, and it may be the dissensions are not entirely absent from the ministerial councils. Although the good sense of the public will, we believe, defeat the promptings of passion, it certainly can not afford to lose the parliamentary influence which has been most powerfully exerted on the side of peace, yet by destroying the effective force of the liberal party at this critical moment, Gladstone has put his great authority at the command of tracers in the pass ons of war. The liberal party is split into factions, some of which will vote for Gladstone's resolutions, and others for the previous question. The rent may easily grow wider, one section becoming more and more ready to combat against Turkish misrule, while another may drift towards those conservatives who are as wax in the hands of the government. The immediate effect of this disunion must be not only to give the ministry a great majority, which is a matter of little consequence, but we fear to strengthen the faction which is clamoring for war against Russia, which, he says, proceeds from ignorance and jealousy. He calls the attention of the friends of their country to his statements, lest in a few weeks the maddest thing that the British government could do should be done, and all Europe be in war.

Russia's Express Object.

BERLIN, May 5.—The Tagblatt states Gortschakoff has instructed Russian representatives in communicating his circulars to the powers to declare that Russia's only object is to compel Turkey to accept measures necessary to insure internal peace; such measures to be determined at the proper moment not by Russia, but by a concert of the powers. In this matter the Czar will limit himself to insuring the reforms agreed upon between the powers. Count Schouvaloff was specially instructed to declare to Great Britain that Russia entertains no plan not intended exclusively for the improvement of the condition of eastern Christians.

Change of Russian Officials.

LONDON, May 5.—Quasi reliable authority says Prince Gortschakoff is about to resign. He is to be replaced by Count Schouvaloff. Prince Orloff, at present ambassador to France, will succeed Schouvaloff at London, and General Ignatieff replace Prince Orloff at Paris.

NOVA SCOTIA.

Among the Kanucks.

HALIFAX, May 4.—Forts in the neighborhood of the city are being supplied with improved guns and ammunition. Much activity is displayed by military authorities. Three iron clads are to be stationed here. Another regiment, the 42d Highlanders, is expected shortly.

Vessel Wrecked.

HALIFAX, May 5.—Lake Doncet, arrived today, says he shipped at Pubrico on the American fishing schooner Dasher, and proceeded to the bay of Islands, New Found and, where the vessel was wrecked in a gale ten days ago. All lost except himself and another.

[Line down South—no report to-night.—ED.]

OREGON.

Wheat at Albany sells for $1 40.

Wm. Trask is enlarging his sawmill on North Umpqua.

S. G. French of the Cove, Union county, has 20,800 plum and prune trees a bearing.

The assessor of Clatsop will collect one dollar poll tax from Chinese this year, or try to do it.

The Eugene Guard urges that measures be taken to furnish that town with a fire engine at once.

At Roseburg a Pat Men's Club has been organized. The average weight of its members is 217 pounds.

The Eugene Guard has been sold to William and Frank Alexander, who will publish the paper from this time.

On May 19th Harrisburg will have a mass meeting to organize a greenback club. 'Tis well; greenbacks are nearly par now.

A man named Riggs, while chopping wood, near Dallas, one day last week, cut off a great toe. The member was lost and could not be found.

During April at Roseburg land office there were fifteen homestead entries, thirty preemption filings, and twelve cash entries; total about 3,500 acres.

J. C. Hutchipson's sons and nephews are about to drive a band of cattle from Douglas county to Eastern Oregon, to be sold there for the Chicago market.

The Canyon Road case, says the Roseburg Independent, will again come up before the Circuit Court under a writ of review at the approaching term. This road has, it is estimated, cost Douglas county at least $20,000, and the end is not yet. Had the county taken the road in charge before the question of ownership was raised and macadamized it, the road would have been the best in the State, and would have cost the tax payers not more than $5,000.

Dallas (Polk county) Remizer: The Indians of Grand Ronde Agency, in this county, seem to be bent on independence. We have talked with several of the most prominent of them, who say they have become tired of the superfluous agency system over them. They claim that they are fully competent to look out for themselves; that they are no longer wild, and will not be treated as such. They desire that their agent be removed and their land partitioned off to individuals with a full warranty deed for the same, that they may dispose of it if they wish and otherwise live—as white men live. They claim that they have not been benefited by the agency for years past, but while being held under a state of servility to the government, have not drawn anything from it.

Roseburg Independent: Articles of incorporation are filed in the clerk's office of Jackson county, incorporating the Grave Creek Ditch and Mining Company. The names of the incorporators are Samuel Bowden, E. Smith, Dr. Aiken, Enoch Walker, Dan Cronemiller, Wm. Bybee and H. Kelly. The capital stock of the incorporation is put at $250,000. The purpose of the company thus formed is to construct a mining ditch, on Grave creek, 17 miles in length, and capable of carrying 3,000 inches of water in o Brimstone gulch and the blue gravel flat, on Grave creek. The survey for the ditch is to be made by Frank Meyer, deputy U. S surveyor, and according to the report made by Surveyor Howard, who looked over the ground last fall, the ditch will carry water to 10,000 acres of mining ground which has never yet been reached. From three acres of ground in this district, mined during the past three years, $95,000 was taken, and a prospect of the flat and Brimstone gulch showed a yield of eight cents to the pan. The company will at once offer 50,000 shares of stock for sale at $1 per share, and intend to complete the ditch the present summer.

Sanitary Matters.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Five new cases of small-pox were discovered yesterday by quarantine officers among Chinese passengers now in quarantine, on the steamer Arizona. The Mongolians who arrived from Hongkong by the Alaska have been in quarantine since the 22d. This week is the first for the year in which no deaths have occurred from small-pox, the total number in the year footing up 477. Diphtheria continues to decrease, the deaths for the week being 11. Total deaths recorded for the week 119.

Returning Defaulter—Pinney about to "Peach."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—There seems to be no doubt of the return of the defaulting Navy Pay Inspector's clerk, George M. Pinney. His wife has just informed the reporter of the Oakland Tribune that he will be on California street at eleven o'clock this morning. In fact he has been in the State for some two weeks communicating with parties who are interested with him in unearthing the system of rascality that has been carried on here in business and political circles. It is claimed by Pinney's friends that when he left here it was with the understanding that certain defalcations and deficiencies should be made good out of means he left behind him, but that those concerned, on the contrary, retained the plunder themselves, swindling both their partner in the crime and his victims. It is understood that during Pinney's secret sojourn here arrangements have been consummated by which the evidence necessary to convict Pinney's accomplices will be at once forthcoming. He will surrender himself to the authorities this afternoon and announce his readiness to answer all charges that may be brought against him. The revelations he proposes to make will not only relate to frauds in the navy pay inspector's office, but also to great land grabbing operations, mining peculations, political corruption and general rascality. The affair creates the greatest sensation.

Suicide.

LOS ANGELES, May 5.—This morning at 6 o'clock a man named Pedro Bellon, shot himself in the presence of his wife and family. He died almost immediately. Deceased was in good financial circumstances, and no reason is given for his act. He was engaged in sheep raising, and has lived here for 15 years.

Rich Mines.

SAN DIEGO, May 5.—The Union's special from Yuma says Colonel W. R. Defrees, of the Silver Queen, and Colonel Charles Whitlow, of the Silver Bell mines, passed toward the California end of the railroad to-day. Both mines are opening marvelously rich. From sixty pounds of average ore of the Queen, thirty-one and a half pounds of metal was run by an ordinary crucible. The metal assays eighty dollars gold and four hundred and fifty dollars silver, and is very rich in copper. Colonel Defrees says he intends to procure a suitable furnace. The shaft is down fifty feet, and the ore showing richer and the vein wider.

Mormons Arming.

NEW YORK, May 5.—A Times Salt Lake special says: The indignant feeling aroused throughout the United States by the testimony at John D. Lee's trial, relative to the Mountain Meadows massacre, has led the Latter Day Saints to apprehend the arrest of Brigham Young and other heads of the church, who are accused of sanctioning the commission of the horrible crime. They have determined to resist any movement, and to this end are secretly arming and drilling throughout the Territory of Utah. Orders have been privately issued by military commanders of the famous Nauvoo legion, requiring that organization to be in readiness for active service on the 20th of the present month.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Herald's Salt Lake special says further preparations for hostilities are particularly active in southern settlements, to which four boxes of breech-loading rifles were shipped last week from the corporation store in Salt Lake City. Last night a meeting and drills of squads of Mormons were going on in Salt Lake City itself, and it is reported that some of the proceedings were conducted within the inclosure in the immediate vicinity of the Lyon House. Young has boldly asserted within the last few days that the Mormons who have been driven so often and so far will be driven no longer.

THE TERRITORIES.

Car wheels are cast at the Tacoma foundry.

Pierce county, W. T., will organize an agricultural society and hold a county fair.

Many lots have been sold at Tacoma recently. Seven new dwellings will be erected at once.

The Statesman affirms that Messrs. Lang & Co., a Kansas firm of cattle dealers, have already disbursed $50,000 hard cash, in the Walla Walla and Shoshone valleys of this Territory for two and three year old cattle and horses to be driven east. The price paid for young cattle ranged from $10 to $20 per head.

The Tacoma Herald thus speaks of progress of work on the Puyallup railroad: General Sprague has been viewing the work on the Puyallup Branch road to the mines, during the present week. During the present month all the grading, cribbing and trestle-work on the line will be done. The clearing will be completed by Thursday evening next. A force of 600 Chinamen and white men will be place, next week, on the last five miles to be graded. Tracklaying will be resumed on Monday, at this end of the road, for the steamship City of Panama, (which was due here yesterday, but will probably arrive today) has on board 230 tons of iron. Halstead is putting up a boarding house on the new townsite at the mines.

Roseburg will celebrate the Fourth of July in the picnic style.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Nelson's flag ship, the Victory, is still preserved in Portsmouth harbor, England, and is now 11 years old. John Bull won't allow her to be broken up.

The smallest church edifice in England is located at Westdale. It has but eight pews. Salary of the rector, $360. The Bishop of Rochester, on the other hand, has an income of $50,000.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that the Chinaman is dangerous to America, not because he is called a barbarian, but because he belongs to a civilization which precludes him from assimilating with ours.

The jewels of Queen Victoria's crown were estimated, a $111,000 forty years ago—at the time of her coronation. Since then they have much increased in value; four diamonds at the top of the crown are worth $10,000 each.

Ortonism sold on the lower class of English people is traceable to religious prejudice. The Tichbornites are Catholics, and the people who believe in Orton have some sort of vague belief that he has been Jesuitically robbed of his birthright.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1877.

RESPONSIBILITY IN LEGISLATION.

A difficulty, which comes next to an impossibility, of getting needful business attended to at the sessions of our legislative assembly, is a subject of remark as often as sessions are held. Two sessions out of three, the election of United States Senator almost wholly engrosses attention. Usually half the session, and sometimes more of it, is thus consumed; and the struggle leaves behind it an irritation, or a weariness and impatience of work that estops all efforts to obtain steady and attentive consideration of a regular order of business. Even on occasions when no Senator is to be chosen, it is extremely difficult for the few members who feel the responsibility of their position to secure that active co-operation from the body of the members which the public business demands. It is this chronic inattention that has allowed the State to be run into debt so far beyond the constitutional limitation of such liabilities. But in this fault of indifference to legislative responsibilities the members of Oregon assemblies are not alone. In other States like inattention and delinquency are noted. For a long time the business of the Illinois legislature, though that body is nominally in session, has been at a stand. Most of the members would avail themselves of their railroad passes to go home or elsewhere, as their humor prompted, rarely appearing in their seats, and being present no more than two days, on an average, in each week. For much of the time both houses have been so weak that the slightest opposition would defeat most important measures. Committee work, the basis of useful legislation, under such circumstances is neglected nearly altogether. What is the remedy for indifference like this? Perhaps there is none, unless there can be awakened among the people a sounder patriotism, a larger public spirit, and a deeper sense of public responsibility. The most worthy are rarely willing to go to the legislature. When they do consent they feel they are making a sacrifice; and such often is the case. Few are able to view it in the light of an urgent public duty, and therefore men excuse themselves who really owe this service to the State. Again, men who would make excellent members, conscientious and laborious in this as in other duties, are often rejected because they do not meet the views and requirements of ambitious politicians who take upon themselves the management of nominating conventions, in order to control the election of United States Senators, or work measures through the legislature in which they have private interest. Moreover there are always enough who are desirous to go to the legislature for what they hope to obtain in one way or another thereby. To have a vote in the election of a Senator is frequently deemed a piece of very good fortune; it has been known to open a road to lucrative official position or to the control of valuable patronage and contracts. Since all these things and many more are so often involved in and complicated with the choice of members of the legislative assembly, there is no room for wonder that the best men are not chosen. Vigilance on the part of the people is one remedy. Another may be found in the creation of a deeper sense of public duty in individuals, which will forbid men to decline so persistently who are qualified to serve with usefulness to the State. It is undeniable that affairs have not received at the hands of our legislative assemblies such attention as they ought. The conditions of the State's indebtedness have never been properly investigated. Measures for revenue have been neglected; expenditures have not been sufficiently scrutinized; for years the pressing necessity of a proper method for the equalization of assessments has been felt and acknowledged. A larger sense of responsibility in legislation is one of the needs of the time. If the people are properly awakened to it, and come to a realization of the fact that a remedy is within reach, the day of improvement will not be long postponed.

A PROVERB EXAMINED.

Fortune does not always favor fools; else, for instance, all of us from day laborers to millionaires, who put spare money into mining stocks at bonanza prices, would have made superb gains. There is pardonable curiosity in Oregon, and no doubt it is far more prevalent in California, to learn how this proverb, sometimes differently worded but always with the same meaning, came to get a place in all languages, ancient and modern. Cervantes, greatest master of proverbs, tells us they are short sentences derived from long experience, which is usually considered an admirable definition. How then does it happen that we have a proverb so universal, which a very long and very wide range of experience doesn't verify at all? This opens a metaphysical question rather too deep to be sounded fully at present. The practical fact to be stated is that, Oregon has thrown money enough into the Nevada mines, which is hopelessly lost, to have put our State upon the highway of industrial prosperity. Most victims who relied on the protection of the proverb, besides feeling the chagrin of loss, which in itself enforces silence, keep mum for the reason that they are ashamed to let it be known that they have gambled against such enormous odds; and therefore nobody can tell the extent of the losses to Oregon, though no doubt a few have information that would enable them to make a shrewd guess.

Returning to the proverb,—Coleridge, whose mind dwelt a good deal on these curious things, tells us that the proverb is current by the misuse of both the words, fortune and fools. Possibly there is such a thing as ill-luck that sometimes pursues a man; and certainly a man is often pursued by the consequences of his imprudence. The whole multitude of these last go down without notice. But just let a person once meet with great success without the intervention of skill and foresight, and it lays hold of our attention at once. Everybody begins to exclaim, "A fool for luck! It is always so!" And thus accumulating one set of facts and never collecting the other, "we put a part for the whole," says Coleridge, "as quacks of all denominations do, and at once soothe our envy and gratify our love for the marvellous by this sweeping proverb." But nobody will patronize California street any more on the strength of it, for a while at least. That wisdom of Bacon's comes with fit admonition, which saith, "Therefore, if a man look sharply and attentively he shall see fortune; for though she be blind, yet she is not invisible."

The Independent, the great and well known religious paper with political tendencies, published at New York, in a recent article took a position on the present aspect of politics fully in accord with Senator Blaine. It is profoundly impressed with the logic that Hayes ought to stand by the men of the South, without whose unflinching fidelity he never could have been President; and it more than hints that Hayes in deserting them impeaches his own title, which is declared to be no better than theirs. If the President can't recognize Packard's title as valid, then, according to the Independent, the electoral commission did a grievous wrong in not giving the vote of Louisiana to Tilden. A Republican paper of Oregon, the State Journal of Eugene City, copies the Independent's article in a way so prominent as to indicate pretty thorough approval of it. That a feeling like this widely exists and has a deep hold on the Republican mind is undoubted. A better answer to it we have never seen than in these words from the New York Herald: "The competent authority to decide the Presidential election was Congress. Congress did decide it, and there is no appeal. The competent authority to decide who is Governor of Louisiana is pointed out by the laws of that State, and President Hayes has no more to do with it than he has with the question as to who is Governor in any other State of the thirty-eight." This meets the point exactly.

Many philosophers, some of them too no doubt possessing very respectable talents, in their comments on the present war in Europe, are taking occasion to say that the world need not be looking for any great military leaders; that the days of conquerers and conquests are past, and all that sort of thing. It is probable, indeed, that the present war may not produce a great military leader; for the highest types of this class are men who come forth as the fruit of a popular movement in eras of democratic ambition, as Cæsar, Cromwell, and Bonaparte; or who appear in ruder ages as leaders of barbarian hosts seeking plunder as the fruit of conquest, as Attila, Tamerlane and Soliman. But who can safely predict that the fermentation of social and political doctrines on a great scale, of which men as yet scarcely dream, may not bring forth military leaders equal to any the world ever produced? Gibbon was a philosophic historian, and declared it impossible that there should be any more great conquerers. But had he lived, as a later historian has remarked, to the age often alloted to man, he would have seen the whole of Europe at the feet of Napoleon.

Is there fun ahead? Here is a thing that has rather a piquant flavor. It will be remembered that Wayne McVeigh, of Philadelphia, was one of the members of the Louisiana Commission. William H. Kemble is a prominent Republican politician of Philadelphia, is Cameron's principal lieutenant, and member of the National Republican Committee for Pennsylvania. When the result of the work of the Commission at New Orleans was announced, Kemble sent McVeigh, who had labored hard to get Packard out of the way, the following telegram:

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.

Wayne McVeigh, Esq., New Orleans, La.: The Commission deserve great credit for their success in bribing enough of Packard's men to give Nicholls a majority. Had Tweed been on your Commission he would have accomplished it in a day. But we must have reform.

Alluding to Mr. Tilden's effort to put David Dudley Field into Congress by getting the present member from one of the New York districts out, the Tribune says:

Can anybody tell us who owns the Vth Congressional District of the State of New York? Is it Mr. Nicholas Muller? Or is it Mr. David Dudley Field? Or is it Mr. Samuel J. Tilden? These are questions of some importance, perhaps, to the 20,000 odd voters constituting that district, and who may object to being given, granted, bargained, sold and conveyed by Mr. Nicholas Muller to Mr. David Dudley Field, in accordance with the wishes of Gov. Tilden.

But Mr. Muller declined to withdraw and the intrigue of Mr. Tilden to get his particular friend and champion into Congress in order that the grievances of the late candidate for the presidency might have an airing, is so far a failure.

Perhaps it is true. Hayes may not be ready to meet the scalpers. At any rate he is going to make them wait five months longer, and more. It is a long time to nurse their wrath; they may not be able to keep it warm beyond the dog-days and into the dreamy Indian summer. This thing of forcing a fellow who wants to fight to take time to get cool and think it over, is quite too provoking. Bottled thunder will hardly keep so long. But matters are going serenely with the occupant of the White House at present, and no doubt he asks himself why he should precipitate a row by calling Congress together just now. Let hot heads say what they will, discretion ever was the better part of valor.

Mr. W. H. Odell announces that he has taken editorial charge of the Salem Statesman. He says he has entered the business "to stay," and will devote all his energies to it. We shall look for great improvement in the paper.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS

OF

DR. P. M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill.

Testimony that Cannot be Controverted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts of the Sound to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, Tremont House, Seattle—For the past year and a half I was a great sufferer from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, pain in the head and a constant pain through the loins and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I came to Victoria and all over the coast, and had treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and was almost given up hopes of ever recovering. I went under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved, from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my home on the Snohomish. JAMES [illegible]
Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with Chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, and the disease having aggravated that there was constantly a stream of matter passing down into my throat from the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by several doctors that it was a polypus; that some of the membranes were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I was told that I had to make up my mind that I must submit to immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a moment's examination, told me exactly what to do. He said the nasal bone was decayed and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer, also the diseased portion of bone and pancatory gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and free from disease as ever I was in my life.
THOMAS D. MURRAY.
Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am one of the cured men. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having [illegible] taken of your skillful treatment. To me now labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.
Yours Truly, JOHN BALLARD,
Employed at Colman's New Mill.

[I will not publish any cures performed by me unless by the full consent of the parties. PAUL M. BRENAN.]

CITY.

VISIT TO CITY VIEW FARM.—By special invitation, we paid a flying visit yesterday afternoon to the City View Farm, in company with several other gentlemen connected with the Portland press. This farm is owned by P. J. Martin, the well known wholesale [illegible] dealer, and is located near the eastern bank of the Willamette river, about 3½ miles [illegible] this city. Mr. Kaiser an industrious, energetic gentleman, has charge of this farm, and numerous evidences of thrift everywhere apparent, show most conclusively that he is the right man in the right place. Three-quarters of an hour's drive from the ferry landing in East Portland, over a good road, past a number of handsome and neatly kept farms brought the party to the City View Farm. The drive through the cool and bracing air added a keen edge to the appetites of this band of quill drivers. Arriving at the house, a hungry party found dinner in readiness prepared in a style truly masterly by that [illegible] of cooks, Mrs. Kaiser. After a thorough and satisfactory discussion of the viands, of which there was neither a lack of quantity nor quality, the party repaired to the Willamette Grove. The park is situated directly on the bank of the river, about one-fourth of a mile from Mr. Kaiser's house. It is a lovely clump of giant oaks, covering an area of several acres and is in every respect admirably adapted for picnic purposes. The ground is free of underbrush, quite level, and covered with grass. Below the grove, extending along the bank of the river, is a long strip as smooth as a floor and clad with a fresh coat of grass. A better place for outdoor sports of every description could hardly be selected anywhere. Mr. Kaiser is preparing the grove by trimming the trees, leveling the rough portions, and otherwise rendering it a suitable and inviting place for holding picnics. He has procured a good number of seats and tables, and this week proposes to put up several large swings. During the present week he will lay a large platform for the accommodation of dancers. Mr. Kaiser's object in making these improvements is to prepare the park so as to render it a favorite spot where picnics can be held this and subsequent seasons. He will spare neither pains nor expense in beautifying the grounds and making it an attractive place. It is located only a few miles from the city, and should not fail to become a popular resort this summer. The Red Men, whose annual picnic will come off next Saturday, have very judiciously chosen Willamette Park Grove. We have no doubt that those who visit the place will be delighted with the surroundings. Mr. Kaiser, who will have charge of the grounds, will do everything to make it pleasant and comfortable to all who visit this resort. After spending a few hours in a very agreeable manner, the gentlemen of the press returned to the city well pleased with the flying trip to the City View Farm.

EAST OF THE CASCADES.—Bishop Morris, who has recently returned from a missionary tour to Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory, writes as follows concerning those regions: "The visit to Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory shows an encouraging growth of the Church, and a wide and widening field for future occupancy. The girls' school at Walla Walla, with fifty pupils, nineteen or twenty of them boarders, is doing admirably; while the missionary work carried on at Weston and Pendleton is every way encouraging. The churches will be ready for consecration in July. No part of our country is improving more steadily than this, none indeed at all equal to it. The population is rapidly increasing, new farms are constantly being made in every direction, and there are yet millions of acres of the very best wheat and already [illegible] the plow of the immigrant. The great rolling plateau between the arms of the Columbia river, instead of being an arid waste, is a land abounding in brooks and fountains of water with a soil of unsurpassed fertility. Thousands and tens of thousands of starving people of the East could here soon make themselves houses of comfort and plenty, and when once the Northern Pacific railroad reaches the country it will team with population and be dotted over with thriving towns and villages."

ENCOURAGING REPORTS.—Mr. J. B. Patterson, who has just returned from a canvassing tour through Benton and part of Polk counties, reports these counties among the first for grain and fruit culture, and finds stock and sheep raising in a successful and prosperous condition. Some attention is being paid to the raising of Angora goats, and it is the impression of those engaged in it that it will be more profitable than sheep. Mr. Patterson describes Ring's valley, twelve miles west of Corvallis, some ten or twelve miles long and from three to seven miles wide, as a splendid stock country and also well suited to farming in all its branches. It is remarkably well supplied with pure and cold water from spring and mountain streams, and is a healthy a locality as Oregon or any other State can offer to the emigrant in search of farming lands or stock ranches. It is already partially settled, and is provided with a saw and grist mill, store, etc. Mr. Patterson reports an unusually large area of grain already in growth in both Benton and Polk counties, and prospects for a compensating return, both as regards quantity and price.

WOMAN OVERBOARD.—Quite a sensation was occasioned yesterday at the ferry landing on the east side of the river, by a young woman upsetting a boat and taking an involuntary bath. A young woman named Smith hired a shell boat of LaChapello, to indulge in a quiet row on the river. After making a number of trips up and down the river, the fair rower attempted to effect a landing along side the ferry boat which was lying at her moorings. In her attempt, the girl lost her balance and fell into the water. The water was deep and cold, and had not a scow of coal been below striving to the rescue, Coroner DeLin might have had to summon a jury, to "investigate the circumstances and particulars." However, some of the gallant spectators drew the young woman ashore and thus saved her from finding the traditional "watery grave." She was taken to a house near by, her wet apparel exchanged for dry, and she sent to her home. No injury further than a sound fright and perhaps an attack of influenza.

INTERESTING LECTURE.—Amand Goegg, a distinguished German journalist and litterateur, will lecture in German at Turner Hall to-morrow evening on "The Present Social and Political Aspect of Europe," during which he will give especial attention to the present impending crisis between Turkey and the other powers. This is Mr. Goegg's second visit to America, and he purposes lengthening it to such an extent as to enable him to study our people and institutions with the care that has always characterized his consideration of a matter of moment, his intention being to publish the conclusions that he arrives at on his return home in a book upon which he is now engaged. His lecture to-morrow evening will without doubt be interesting and valuable, as conveying information which, being gathered by a dispassionate and studious observer, cannot fail to be thorough and therefore exceedingly instructive.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.—Last Friday evening a regular meeting of Brooklyn Lodge No. 115, I. O. G. T., was held, at which time the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing quarter: Enoch Turner, W. C. T.; Ross Sexton, W. V. T.; Al. McCune, W. S.; E. E. Long, W. F. S.; Helen Kelly, W. The following persons were elected as representatives to the Grand Lodge: E. E. Long, J. N. Wheeler, Helen Kelly; alternates—E. Turner, James McGrew and Rebecca Fitch. J. N. Wheeler was recommended for lodge deputy for the ensuing year.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.—Last Friday evening a regular meeting of Brooklyn Lodge No. 115, I. O. G. T. was held, at which time the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing quarter: Enoch Turner, W. C. T.; Rosa Turner, W. V. T.; Al. McCune, W. S.; E. E. Long, W. F. S.; Helen Kelly, W. T.; F. B. Kelly, W. C.; M. Cummings, W. M.; S. Rolfe, D. M.; W. Laubach, O. G.; L. F. Turner, R. H. S.; Rebecca Fitch, L. H. S.; Annie Wishard, A. R. S.; James N. Wheeler, P. W. C. T. The following persons were elected as representatives to the Grand Lodge: E. E. Long, J. N. Wheeler, Helen Kelly; alternates—E. Turner, Annie McGrew and Rebecca Fitch. J. N. Wheeler was recommended for lodge deputy for the ensuing year.

STEAMER ELDER.—The steamer Geo. W. Elder sailed hence Saturday with the following passengers: I. C. Ellis, Miss Johnson, Mrs. S. J. Hakes, Mrs. George E. Cole and daughter, S. G. Campbell, G. W. Hoyt and family, Mary Elliott, A. K. Bates, J. S. Taylor, E. H. Dowell, A. G. Mundle, Mrs. F. M. Warren, Dr. Atkinson, W. A. Rowe and wife, H. Dodge, Sam Case, Miss Ella Cole, J. D. Boring, W. A. Hall and wife, Rev. William Grimes, Mr. Henkle, Rev. J. D. Pierce and family, Charles Albright, James Jamison, Mrs. F. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Messenger. Steerage: John Manson, Perry Wilson, E. C. Newell, J. A. Caldwell, J. A. Mercer, E. E. Hills, J. T. Goodrich.

ONE REASON ASSIGNED.—Speaking of the proposed withdrawal of the U. S. troops from Alaska, an exchange says: "One reason urged for the withdrawal of the troops from Alaska, was that cases of conflict of authority frequently arose in Washington Territory, on account of arrests made by the military, of persons who were brought to the Territory for trial, there being no civil authorities in Alaska. Another reason was the great expense of keeping a military force as far in the North. A recent fire destroyed part of the barracks, and it was estimated that $12,000 would have to be spent to repair the damages. We believe there were only about 108 men, all told, at Sitka and Fort Wrangel.

KIND WORDS FROM ABROAD.—Mr. C. E. Hazen, of Brooklyn, Conn., writing under a very recent date, pays the OREGONIAN the following handsome compliment: "Of course, we like your paper. We read and lend every copy we get. Every one is surprised to learn that so large and able a paper is published in Oregon. The State news is read with interest in particular, and the agricultural notes are reckoned as most important. It is a question often asked, whether there is still good government land in the market. According to our best information, we answered: 'None desirable to occupy.' If I am mistaken, the OREGONIAN will probably correct me before the end of another year."

Prof. Baldwin and his wife are exposing spiritualism in Detroit.

Prof. Tom Parrott has composed a march which is being published.

Mrs. George E. Cole and two daughters are among the passengers on the Elder.

The base ball fever is raging East, but we haven't caught the mania out here yet.

Those who ventured forth yesterday clad in linen dusters were out of luck, that's all.

Rev. D. J. Pierce and family took their departure yesterday on the out-going steamer.

Levi Estes has been appointed administrator of the estate of Frank Cogwell, deceased.

Dr. T. J. Sloan, who has been dangerously ill for some time past, is slowly convalescing.

Billie Bigham, the well known racer, was sold at auction Saturday. He brought $100.

Mr. R. C. White, the scenic artist, is engaged on a drop curtain for John Jack's theater at Astoria.

Mr. Lyle, the blacksmith who was killed by a horse several weeks ago and seriously injured, is rapidly recovering.

Friday the father of Frank Cogswell, the unfortunate man who was run over by the locomotive last week and instantly killed, arrived from the Sound. He had the remains shipped to Tacoma for interment.

A Christian gentleman who stopped and told the boys it was wicked to play base-ball on Sunday, a few minutes afterward wanted to know why in thunder the third baseman didn't throw the ball to the plate so as to cut off the run.

"Don't go, George," she entreats in tender accents, as they lean over the chronometer gate. "But, my dear, you know your father has wound up the gate for 11 o'clock," he replies. "Yes, The old fool! It's too bad," she exclaims bitterly, and George kisses away the rising tears and hurries away half a minute before the fatal hour at which the gate goes off.

JEFFERSON ITEMS.

"More Anon," writing from this place under date of May 5th, sends the following:

School begins Monday.

Several gone to the mountains.

Farmers about through seeding.

Miss Mattie Campbell of this place is teaching a large class in instrumental music at Albany.

E. W. Thomas, Esq., has put out on his farm, lying close to town, ten acres of hops, which are growing finely.

Now is the time that the road supervisor makes himself particularly obnoxious to gentlemen not given to industry.

W. W. Johnson from the Malheur reservation is in town visiting relatives. He reports things on that "illihee" as going along smoothly.

Mr. B. Phelps of this place has invented a combined harrow and roller, which is pronounced by farmers generally as a decided success. Mr. Phelps will have it patented at an early day, and doubtless reap a rich reward for his genius.

For the want of proper support, the only saloon in this city has become one of the things that were. Temperance will probably be the watchword, at least until some enterprising individual "sees money in the business" and starts up again.

THE COURTS.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

SATURDAY, May 5, 1877.

I'm so glad—Hickory nuts, big ones, at Stone's.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPERA.—Saturday evening a fashionable and refined audience greeted the first appearance of the English and Comic Opera company at New Market Theater. On this occasion the charming opera "Maritana" was rendered. With scarcely an exception the opera ran smoothly from the opening to the concluding scene. Each member of the company seemed in splendid voice, and the singing and acting was entered into with a spirit, feeling and degree of vivacity quite satisfactory. Mr. Tilla as "Don Caesar de Bazan," made a very favorable impression. He possesses a tenor voice of remarkable purity of tone, expression and compass. There is much sympathy in the quality of tone, and in some of the more tender and pathetic passages he sings exquisitely. His acting is easy, natural and finished. From the manner in which he was received, it is safe to predict that he will become a general favorite. Miss Rose Chappelle as "Lazarillo," acquitted herself remarkably well. It is a sufficient excuse for any noticeable stiffness in her acting, to state that Miss Chappelle never appeared in that character before, and did not even have the advantage of a thorough rehearsal. She possesses a contralto voice of great strength and expression, sweet and fresh, every note falling on the tympanum with an almost flute-like softness. Miss Chappelle's greatest and most apparent fault is her extreme modesty, (by the way a most pardonable defect), and want of confidence. This will be speedily overcome by experience. Miss Jennie Winston sang the title role with charming effect. Her rendering of that familiar solo "Scenes that are Brightest," was very beautiful and was received with prolonged plaudits.

Bellini's beautiful opera "la Somnambula," will be produced this evening for the first time in Portland. The characters have been judiciously distributed, and a splendid representation may be anticipated. Already a large number of reserved seats have been sold, and a crowded house may be expected. Below we present a brief outline of the plot on which the opera is based:

An orphan girl, brought up in a village in the Swiss cantons, is on the eve of being married to a young farmer. The contract has been signed, when a stranger arrives on his way to the neighboring chateau. He is recognized as the lord of the manor, who has been some years absent from the country, and the villagers go in the morning to pay their respects to him at the inn where he has halted for the night. On opening his door, they find the bride elect fast asleep on his bed. The bridegroom arrives at the same time and is stricken with horror. The young girl awakening, is surprised at finding herself in a strange room. Her protestations of innocence are of no avail. The villagers cry shame on her guilt, and her lover spurns her with execrations. In vain the stranger relates that she came into his room in a state of somnambulism. No one believes him. Chance, however, determines what protestations could not effect. The young farmer, having renounced his nuptial engagement, is on his way to church to be married to an older sweetheart. Having to pass the house where his late fiancee resides, he sees a young girl issuing from a window in the roof and walking along the parapet. It is his rejected mistress. She crosses a rotten plank over a mill stream, and descends to the ground by a ruinous flight of steps. Broken exclamations of love and devotion fall from her lips, and everyone is convinced of her innocence. On awakening, she finds herself surrounded by old friends, who cover her with caresses and congratulations, and a reconciliation with her lover fills her heart with joy and gladness. The scene is laid in Switzerland.

COURSE OF LECTURES.—Dr. Paul M. Brenan concluded a very successful, and, we believe, satisfactory course of lectures last Saturday evening at Masonic Hall. His lectures have been very largely attended by the best and most intelligent of our citizens, which is a sufficient guaranty of their substance and character. The doctor is a very polished and engaging speaker, and not only succeeds in interesting and amusing his audiences, but never fails to edify them. We understand that he proposes to deliver a lecture in Portland in a few weeks on a national subject, and by special request will recite the beautiful poem, "Shamus O'Brien." He can be consulted, free of charge, at Clarendon Hotel from 10 to 12 A. M., and at Corbett's block, corner Front and Washington, from 1:30 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

At a meeting held at the hall of Beaver lodge, No. 35, I. O. O. F., the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS it has pleased the Great Ruler of the universe to remove from our midst suddenly while in the springtime of manhood, our late brother, Lieut. Joshua L. Knapp, and

WHEREAS it is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be placed on record; therefore be it

Resolved, By Beaver Lodge, No. 35, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of Almighty God, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been so suddenly taken from among us.

Resolved, That in the death of Lieut. Joshua L. Knapp this lodge laments the loss of a brother who in the short time that we have known him, had endeared himself to all, as a citizen courteous and affable, as an officer honorable and just, and had his life been spared, gave promise of great usefulness.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to his relatives and friends in their great affliction.

Resolved, That as a token of respect our lodge be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the lodge and a copy thereof, under the seal of the lodge, be transmitted to the parents of our deceased brother, and to the Weekly Astorian and Daily Oregonian with a request that they publish the same.

The Best Recuperant

Of failing energy, that to which the fagged out man of business, the brain-fatigued author, the tired advocate or the weary artisan can resort with the greatest certainty that it will revive his overwrought powers, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a most genial tonic cordial, as well as a benign remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels and urinary organs, and a means of eradicating and preventing intermittent and remittent fevers. It not only enriches the blood and creates a new fund of energy in the system, but it has the effect of expelling impurities from the life current which beget disease. The injurious effect of abrupt transitions of temperature, of unwholesome climate and injurious diet, are counteracted by it, and it promotes digestion appetite and sound repose. Give it a trial and be convinced.

LYON'S KATHAIRON makes beautiful, glossy, luxuriant hair, prevents its falling out or turning gray. It has stood the test of 40 years. Is charmingly perfumed, and has no rival.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM preserves and restores the complexion; removes freckles, tan and sallowness; makes the skin soft, white and delicate. Its application cannot be detected.

THE PHOTOGRAPH

IS AN EXTRAORDINARY INVENTION FOR printing copies by the thousands from a single autograph writing or drawing. From one writing by this process a thousand permanent fac similie impressions of circulars, price lists, specifications, examination papers, assessment notices, etc., may be printed in an ordinary copying press, upon any description of paper. Copies may be taken direct from the writing without any of the usual operations of inking, rolling, transferring or typesetting. A proof impression may be produced within five minutes after a manuscript has been completed, and be afterwards multiplied at the rate of five hundred an hour, at an infinitesimal cost.

One Thousand Copies

May be produced from a single sheet of Papyrograph Paper, and a single application of color, at an expense of four cents. It possesses over printing the advantages of an Autograph Letter, besides admitting of illustrations without the expense of wood cuts. It allows autograph letters to pass through the mail as third class matter. It is invaluable to any business. It can be seen in operation at the office of the agent for Oregon.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1877.

KITTY OF COLERAINE.

As beautiful Kitty one morning was tripping
With a pitcher of milk from the fair of Coleraine
When she saw me she stumbled—the pitcher it tumbled,
And all the sweet buttermilk watered the plain.

"Oh, what shall I do now? 'Twas looking at you now;
Sure, sure, such a pitcher I'll ne'er meet again,
'Twas the bride o' my dairy: oh, Barney M'Leary,
You're sent as a plague to the girls of Coleraine."

I sat down beside her, and gently did chide her
That such a misfortune should give her such pain;
A kiss I then gave her before I did leave her,
She vowed for such pleasure to break it again.

'Twas hay making season, I can't tell the reason,
Misfortune's will never come single—that's plain;
For very soon after poor Kitty's disaster,
The divil a pitcher was whole in Coleraine.

WIT AND HUMOR.

An Eastern man, in writing to his friends of his marriage in California, thus tersely describes his bride: "She has a head as red as a woodpecker's and owns sheep until you can't rest."

"Piety," remarked an Arkansas preacher to his congregation the other day, "does not consist in noise. The Lord can see you give to the needy just as easily as he can hear you pray the roof off."

A country girl wrote to her lover: "Now George, don't you fale to be at the singing school to-night." George wrote back that "In the bright lexicon of youth—Worcester's—there's no such word as fale."

"Where was John Rogers burned to death?" asked a teacher in school. "Joshua knows," replied a little girl at the foot of the class. "Well," said the teacher, "if Joshua knows he may tell." "In the fire," said Joshua, looking very grave and wise.

And she so cool and practical,
Thus wrote she in reply:
"I see you write about a kiss,
And lying down to die;
Bathe in hot water, love, your feet,
Crushed ice put to your head;
And then a mild cathartic take—
And go right straight to bed."

Jennie has strict ideas about equity in little things. When she first heard the story of the Saviour's miracle in feeding the multitude with the few loaves and fishes obtained from the young lad's basket, she was awed into solemn and thoughtful amazement. Some time afterward, in the midst of a talk about other matters, she suddenly paused, and asked with special concern, "Did they give back the basket to that boy?"

A minister was told once by a man that he had been a professor of religion for many years, but for ten years had neglected all religious duties; but notwithstanding this he had never given up his "hope." The reverend gentleman noticing meanwhile that his breath smelled strongly of liquor, lost no time in telling him it was time he did. He did not set much value upon a hope that had been preserved in whisky for ten years.

"You keep talking about corners on wheat," said a Chicago lady the other day to her husband, who was a speculator on 'Change. "Yes; and what of it?" asked he. "Why," observed she, earnestly, "I always thought wheat was a small, smooth, oval-shaped grain, with no corners on it." Then that big brute of a man, instead of explaining to his innocent little wife, laid back in his chair, and ha-ha'd and he-he'd and ho-ho'd until his vest buttons dropped off.

The worst elements in the Republican party, says the Cincinnati Gazette, are opposing Hayes' Southern policy in advance of its development. This leads us to suspect that the real trouble is that Hayes' civil policy, or, in other words, his mode of distributing the patronage, does not suit them. When such men as Spencer and Patterson cannot control the patronage, they cease to be valuable to themselves.

New York Freight Markets.

NEW YORK, May 5.—California freights, via Cape Horn, are moderately active to day, but agents are more choice of their selection, and although not positively refusing cheaper and coarse classes, they are not anxious for it at current rates, but prefer to select such freight as will pay the best rate. Shipments to-day include considerable dry goods, but chiefly cases, several lots and bales having been sent overland at reduced rates. Of the ships loading the Pactolus will finish Monday afternoon and the Sterling about the 11th, she lacking 800 tons of cargo, all of which is engaged. Rates of freight tend upward, and an advance is looked for at an early date, the last ship chartered having been at a higher rate per ton than is at present paid by shippers.

Freights at Boston continue quiet, and the Reynolds gets on slowly. Railroad freights from Boston are more active, and shipments for the week amount to nearly 3,000 packages. The H. S. Gregory cleared at Philadelphia this afternoon with a full cargo of coal on private account.

The merchandise markets generally were more active to day. Flour, under moderate export demand was 10@25 cents higher; wheat closed quiet, at an advance of 3 cents, high prices checking trade. Rio coffee very firm at an advance of ¼@¼ cents. Hides very firm.

Wool remains dull; California descriptions quiet: Boston advices quote fair demand at steady prices; receipts of new spring California are free and the quality beginning to improve and a larger proportion of Northern arrives. Large sales have been made from samples to arrive; lots being shipped direct to manufacturers without storage. No old spring in the market. Sales of new are 267,000 pounds at 21@30c, the latter for small lots choice Northern. The stock of fall is considerably reduced, and the principal transactions have been on speculation and include one lot of 400,000 lbs at 14½c, a price that did not pay cost in San Francisco. Other sales of this description amount to 116,500 pounds at 15@25c; 1,423,000 pounds, including 450,000 pounds Ohio and Pennsylvania at 40@41c for medium and X Ohio; 40½c for XX; a lot of 29,000 pounds very choice XXX New York is held at 47c, but good average doesn't bring over 33@37c; 65,000 pounds New York and Vermont sold at 35@36c; some 78,000 pounds Michigan, Wisconsin and New Hampshire sold at 37@37½; this is a fair range for good average lots; pulled in fair demand. Principal sales of super and X has been in range at 35@40c, with sales of choice Eastern and Maine super at 42½@45c, down to 32c for low Western. Combing and delaine is very scarce and little has been done, and quotations are almost entirely nominal in combing. Pulled—sales have been 14,000 pounds at from 45c to 49½c, the latter for fine new. California continues to arrive freely, the stock of fall is considerably reduced; sales of this description has been 588,500 pounds at from 15@25c; mostly at from 15½@18c. In new spring, sales have been 27,000 pounds at from 21@26c for good and choice lots of Southern up to 30c for choice Northern; and the latter price is the extreme quotation for the most desirable lots of Southern. Refined sugars are in good demand, closing at an advance of ⅛@⅜; raw is also active, refiners purchasing freely.

Chicago Markets.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The excitement of the foregoing week has not been kept up during this on change, but the business transacted has been unusually large and the interest far greater than ordinary among all classes of operators. As indicated last week the speculators have shifted from wheat to corn and they have plied their business right merrily to the latter cereal all week. The fluctuations of corn have not been very severe, but a large aggregate of business has been done. June wheat sold Monday, 1 65¼@1 75; Tuesday, 1 57@1 68; Friday, 1 68@1 75; Saturday, 1 74½@1 80. Corn sold Monday, 38¾@39¼; Tuesday, 52¼@57; Wednesday, 57@58; Thursday, 52@53¾; Friday, 54½@56¾; Saturday, 57@58¼. Receipts for the week, of wheat 47,000, of corn 1,030,000, oats 259,000. Shipments of wheat 421,000, corn 2,051,000, oats 421,000. Receipts the same time last year, wheat 228,000, corn 804,000, oats 349,000. Shipments, wheat 791,000, corn 1,018,000 oats 368,000. Wheat closes 1 73 for cash, corn 56¾ oats 24, rye 90@91, barley 77. Provisions have fluctuated considerably, but the general tendency has been to lower prices and the week closes with rates nearly a dollar lower than last week on pork.

Coffee and Oil.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The overland movement of coffee from California ports has fallen off wonderfully within three years. In 1874, 926,000 pounds were sent East from San Francisco; in 1875, 1,281,000 pounds, and in 1876 only 106,000 pounds. The ambition of San Francisco aspired to reach two-thirds of the way across the continent and lay a heavy hand upon the whole coffee trade of the Mississippi valley, but the irresistible argument of freights against her cost her from 27 to 52 cents more per hundred pounds to land coffee in Chicago than it costs in New York.

The hills of the three southern counties in California, Los Angeles, San a Barbara and San Buenaventura are covered with wild and eager men boring for oil and locating claims. The oil furore of 1856 is repeated, but there is this difference—in 1856 they did not know where paying oil was, now they do. They find abundance of light green and heavy black oil, and Professor Shillman's prophesies are confirmed. The total product is not yet very large, but California now expects to supply the whole Pacific coast in a very short time, and also the markets of Eastern Asia.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder, hence for San Francisco, sailed at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

The steamship Ajax will be due from San Francisco at this port on Monday.

The British bark Lebu, hence with a cargo of wheat, arrived at Queenstown April 20th.

The bark Rival and the barkentines Tam O'Shanter and Eureka are due in the river from San Francisco.

PRATT'S

ASTRAL OIL.

300° FIRE TEST.

Chas. Pratt & Co., New York,

Sole Proprietors and Manufacturers.

To Consumers of High Fire-Test Mineral Oils.

YOUR ATTENTION IS PARTICULARLY INvited to our 300° Fire-Test Oil, called "Pratt's Mineral Colozа." which we are now manufacturing expressly for STEAMSHIP, RAILROAD and MILL ILLUMINATION, or for use where an exceedingly high Fire-Test Oil is required. It has already been adopted by many of the Railroads throughout the country, and by most of the coastwise steamers sailing from New York, whose continuance of its use in preference to all similar Oils is sufficient commendation as to its quality. It will not burn well in the ordinary Petroleum Lamp, it being of too heavy gravity for such use; but in the German Student Lamp and those with double wick burners, we guarantee it to give perfect satisfaction producing a pure flame of great brilliancy. Our facilities for manufacturing are excellent, and equal to any demand, while the price is much lower than that of any oil in the market of the same character and fire test. The U. S. law in regard to the use of these Oils on passenger steamers is very explicit, as follows:

"Any Oil which will stand a Fire Test of Three Hundred (300°) Degrees Fahrenheit, may be carried as freight or used as stores on any steamer carrying passengers."

We beg to offer the following Certificates, which have been handed us from the very best authorities obtainable, in regard to the test of the Mineral Colozа Oil, and they may be considered perfectly reliable:

Report of Prof. S. Dana Hayes, Massachusetts State Assayer.

[COPY.] BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 19th, 1876

A sample of burning Oil, marked Mineral Colozа, manufactured by CHARLES PRATT & Co., of New York City, has been tested by me with the following result: It has a Fire Test of 328° Fahrenheit. It does not ignite under 328° F.

(Signed) S. DANA HAYES,
Massachusetts State Assayer.

Report of Inspector of Petroleum Oil, for State of Massachusetts.

[COPY.] BOSTON, October 4th 1876.

I have tested samples of Mineral Colozа Oil, from CHARLES PRATT & Co., New York City, and find the igniting point or Fire Test to be 315° Fahrenheit. (Signed) R. F. MEANS, Mass. State Inspector of Petroleum.

Report on Sample of Mineral Colozа Oil, Tested for U. S. Inspector of Steamers 2d District.

[COPY.] NEW YORK, April 25th, 1876.

MR. ADDISON LOW, U. S. Sub Inspector.

DEAR SIR: We have tested the sample of Mineral Colozа Oil presented by you, and find it stands a Fire Test of 300° Fahrenheit, and we consider it in all respects a very superior Oil.

(signed) LOCKWOOD BROS. & HOLLY,
Petroleum Inspectors appointed by N. Y. City Produce Exchange.

To the Trade.

The undersigned beg to call your attention to all of the above, and thus advise you that they will at all times have a full supply of the above mentioned goods on hand, and would be pleased to have your orders.
